HONEST ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES Somehow there exists a vast amount of scepticism as to the possibility of caring Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we

If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Atterative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for asking all Consumptives to take it, is that we have the reports of many resoveries, one of which follows:—

BIG BUSINESS IS

President-elect Assumes Responsibility For Book that Outlines His Policy.

New York, Peb. 18 .- A scathing arraignment of "Big Business" is contained in president-elect Wilson's pre-in auguration book "The New Freedom," which made its appearance for the first time upon the news stands here today. President-elect Wilson not only reiterates his attacks upon the trusts of the United States, but sounds a new warning to the great financial interests of the country. The work is considered one of the most remarkable ever put in the field both by reason of the bitterness of its arraingnment of the present financial system and by reason of its pre-inauguration exploitation of a future presidental policy, no other chief executive of the United States since the Declaration of Independence having duplicated the feat of Mr. Wilson.

The president-elect not only attacks The president-elect not only attacks the trusts and monopolies of the country, but makes it clear that he will do all in his power to legitimately restore trade competition and individual opportunity and to disentangle community centralization, which he says, has become dangerously coordinated.

Arraigas Roosevelt.

Arraigns Roosevell.

Mr. Wilson arraigns ex-president Roosevelt and his program of benevolent monopoly; strongly advocates an advance policy of the initiative, referendum and recall, with the exception of the recall of the judiciary, charges the existence of a money trust, and expounds at length his political philosophy.

Calinhan's Testimony In Court Wins Friends Who Help Him to Pind Employment. If a man has an Irish brogue and pounds at length his political philosophy.

The president-elect explains that he is not the actual author of the book, but that it is a collection of the more suggestive portions of his campaign speeches put together by Williard Bayard Hale with such interpolation as would render the work an actual exposition of Mr. Wilson's views. The book is signed by Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson in his preface says:
This book is an attempt to express the new spirit of our politics and to set forth in large terms, which may stick in the imagination what it is that must be done, if we are to restore our polities to their spiritual vigor again and our national life, whether in trade, in industry or what concerns us only as families and individuals, to its purity, its self respect and its Christian strength and freedom.

In writing upon the subject, "Menopoly or Opportunity" Mr Wilson says:—

"I admit the popularity of the theory that the trusts have come about through the natural development of business conditions in the United States and that it is a mistake to try to oppose the

It is a mistake to try to oppose the processes by which they have been built

P. answer nevertheless, that this at-"I answer nevertheless, that this attitude rests upon a confusion of thoughts. Big Business is no doubt to a large extent necessary and natural. The development of business upon a large scale, upon a great scale of cooperation, is inevitable and, let me add, is most probable. But that it is a very different matter from the growth of trusts, because trusts have not grown; they have been artifically created.

Private Monopolies Indefensible. "For my part I want the pigmy (little business) to have a chance and I forsee the time when the pigmes will be so much more athletic than the giants that it will be a case of Jackthe-Giant-Killer, I take my stand absolutely, where every progressive ought to take his stand, on the proposition that private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. And I will fight my battle, and I know how to fight it. I am perfectly willing that they (the trusts) should best any competitor by fair means; but I know the foul means they have adopted and I foul means they have adopted and I know that they can be stopped by law What we want to do is to disentangle this colossal "community of interests."

this colossal "community of interests."

The Roosevelt Progressive party next comes under the fire of the president-elect. After an analysis of Progressive party tenets, Mr. Wilson finds that "the new party legalizes monopoly and systematically subordinates working men to them and to plans made by the government both with regard to wages and with regard to employment."

"Take the thing as a whole," says Mr. Wilson, " and it looks strangely like economic mastery over the very lives and fortunes of those who do the daily work of the nation; and all this under the overwhelming power and sovereignty of the national government.

avalry pack train stationed at Fort Riss, is here accompanied by his srotheriniaw and wife. Mr. Eckhorst recently bought a large ranch near Tonderoff and will put his brother-niaw in charge. They are now busy autipping the place with stock and ment.

"The man who is leading the new party has not changed his point of view since he was president of the United States—it is surprising that such a man was not asain chosen president of the United States and allowed to patent the present processes of industry and personally direct them how to treat the people of the United homa. Wagons have been sent to fularosa, to transport provisions to the eservation for the new comers. Dr. L. K. Warren was called to Tulahow to treat the people of the United States."

Scores Money Trust. With regard to the Money trust, Mr. llson writes: "Our system of credit is privately concentrated. The growth of the nation, therefore, and all our activities are in the hands of a few men, who, even if their actions be honest, necessarily check and chill and destroy generates. uine economic freedom. The great monopoly of this country is the monop-oly of credit. So long as that exists, our old variety and freedom and indi-vidual energy of development are out of the question."

Mr. Wilson also alleges that monop-oly has made invention as welcome and oly has made invention unwelcome and almost impossible, and warns the Re-publican party that it is being deluded into playing false with the enlisted. Mr. Wilson reiterated his intention of pruning the Republican protective tariff but scouted the idea that he was an advocate of Free trade.

MAN KILLED IN RAY WAS RUNNING AMUCK

WAS RUNNING AMUCK
Florence, Ariz, Feb. 18.—Later advices from Ray telling of the killing of Chas. Gentsch by supervisor Wills, say that Gentsch was running amuck. About midsight, it is said, he demolished part of the front of Robt, R. Wiggin's Ray botel, and at six o'clock entered Mulins's saloon and began to destroy everything in sight. Proprietor willing and supervisor Wills were sleeping above the saloon and they were attracted by the noise, and springing out of bed ran down stairs to see what had been threed loose. Upon entering, Wills called upon Gentach to surrender, but, it is said, he replied with a blow from a club, knocking Wills down, whereupon Wills, it is said, fired twice, mortally wounding the crased man. Still having fight in him, Gentuch hurled a chair at the big mirror behind the bar, but the barkeeper was in the way, and saved the The coroner's jury empanelles to

The case of the state of Arizona against J. E. McGoe, sheriff of Pinal county, was dismissed by judge Sutter, of Cochise, sitting for judge C'Coanor, of this county. This case grew out of the death of sheriff elect Chas. M. Foreman, who died Jan. 10. of last year, before he was qualified. McGee chaimed the right to hold over, but the board of supervisors declared the office vacant and appointed F. J. McCartly to serve the remainder of the term. This is the second suit brought to oust McGee. It was dismissed because the county attorney declared in open court that he had signed the complaint therein without having repair.
